Biography

Peter Holmes is a Scottish Chartered Accountant and a partner of 25 years standing in Deloitte. His background is in Corporate Finance. He has been Ethics Partner of Deloitte UK for over ten years. This role includes responsibility for promulgating Ethical values throughout the firm, for maintaining audit independence and for identifying and managing potential professional conflicts of interest. Peter is also Global Managing Director of Risk Management for Deloitte's Financial Advisory business. This latter role brings him into contact with business cultures throughout the world.

Anita Aul is the Ethics Director at Deloitte UK. She qualified at Deloitte as a Chartered Accountant, and spent several years delivering Audit and Advisory services to client. During that time, she also gained global experience working in the US firm for two years. Anita has led activities in a number of areas of quality and risk over the last nine years, including auditor independence as well as broader risk management projects; before focusing more wholly on Ethics.
